Steps

- Cut plaster strips approximately 3 cm x 30 cm (about 5 per jar).
- Fill a bowl with water and immerse the plaster strips in it.
- Place the wet strips on the jar from top to bottom.
- Allow the plaster strips to dry for a few hours.
- Once the strips are dry, apply phosphorescent paint on them.
Tip: For even more phosphorescence, apply a second layer of paint.
- Cut out the eyes from the black adhesive foam sheet and stick them on the jar.
- Draw the Frankenstein's mouth with a black paint marker.
- Decorate the top of the jar with Halloween sequins and spiderweb fabric.
- Turn off the lights to admire the result in the dark!

Tip: For a more pronounced effect, expose the jars to light before placing them in the dark.
