

Bouquet of paper flowers

Time: 40 minutes | Age: 8 years and over

Difficulty: ★★☆☆

Material

- Sheets of plain translucent paper
- Sheets of fancy paper
- A pair of scissors
- A stapler
- Craft glue
- Decorative masking tape

To make the flowers

1. For the flowers cut out about fifteen squares of different sizes (6x6cm/7.5x7.5cm/8cm) from the translucent paper and the fancy paper, as you like.
2. For the flower pistil cut out about fifteen strips (5x1cm) from the yellow translucent paper.
3. Apply a drop of glue to the tip of a strip and then place it on one of the diagonals of a square.
4. Leave to dry. Repeat this operation for each flower.
5. To make the flowers bring two extremities of the squares together and staple them well at the base.

To make the leaves:

1. Cut out about ten leaves of different sizes (5 to 7cm) from the green translucent paper.
2. Apply a drop of glue to the base of a leaf, then place it at the base of a flower. Leave to dry. Repeat this operation for each leaf.

To make the bouquet:

1. Staple the first 4 flowers together at the base.
2. Complete by stapling and gluing the rest of the flowers together, at several different heights.

➕ You can then stick the bouquet onto a gift, and decorate the gift using decorative tape, as you like.
